Enter your reflective comments	Building community engagement has been a part of our SSP and has involved parents and staff in trying new initiatives to encourage parent involvement in our school. Our parents, many of whom work, find it difficult to participate in school activities however when we are able to put on activities where students are presenting (Student Expos), or performing (School Concerts) or representing our school at sporting events we seem to be able to get the most involvement. Using these activities to encourage parents into the school to witness students learning is the best way to engage parents. Our work on providing students with opportunities for goal setting and self regulating learning has taken us into developing a variety of checklists/rubrics and proficiency scales. one concern from teachers is that there may be too much in this area that sometimes students don't know what to focus on. There may be a need to prioritise what goal setting needs to take place and how much this is regularly checked in on with conferences between individual students and teachers. We have continued to develop the capabilities of our current school leaders but also provide avenues to develop other staff as leaders. this includes staff participating in Bastow leading literacy courses and Bastow Create, middle leaders course.
Considerations for 2020	Continuing to develop staff through Bastow leadership courses should be a priority to not only develop leadership skills and leadership potential but also to develop capacity and knowledge of staff across the school. Continued work on building practice excellence, particularly through the teaching of literacy and linking Reading, Writing and Spelling should be another area of work in 2020.
